→ special role:

- interface between ideological paradigms and real-political considerations
- moderating authority

Know your opponent!

You will not only get to know the school of thought of your role!

To improve as a player you need to not only know how you plan to win, but ... how might your opponent disrupt your plan.

What role should I apply for?

Decision based on following criteria:

- Obvious, but not necessarily most relevant:
 - What school of thought would I like to learn about or do I like best
 - What school of thought do I know least about
- More relevance:
 - What role would you like to perform - either because it comes naturally to you or it is very much in opposition to you (you do not need to be in line with the role you choose because you are acting)
 - What school of thought do you know (best) so that you can explore the others from that perspective
